Welcome to Overton's new Headteacher

Welcome to Overton primary school's new Headmaster Mr Gary Wyn-Jones. Mr Wyn-Jones has replaced Mrs Pat Clark who retired in December after working for over 25 years as Headmistress at St Mary's. Gary writes -

"January has been an extremely busy month as I have been settling in to my new position as Headteacher of St. Mary's Church in Wales Aided School. The warm welcome and kind wishes that I have received have been wonderful and are testament to the strong community spirit within the village and surrounding area.

My professional background in education has involved working in various primary schools within North Wales and until Christmas I was the deputy Headteacher at Minera Church Aided School near Coedpoeth. On a more personal level, I live in a village on the outskirts of Mold with my wife (another teacher) and our young daughter. My background is very much in sports and I competed until only recently in Athletics. I am also a keen cyclist and skier, having spent numerous holidays in the French Alps. During the warmer months, I am sure to be putting the children through their paces on the school field!

St. Mary's school has an excellent reputation within Wrexham and to lead a team of such hard working and talented staff is certainly a privilege and honour. High standards have already been set and the challenge now is to not only maintain those standards but to further develop and improve the school. Through working in partnership between the School, Governors, Parents, Church and the local community, St. Mary's will continue to grow each year as it becomes firmly established as one of the leading schools within Wrexham. Regards/Diolch, Mr. Gary Wyn-Jones

A M concerned over threat to loos

Clwyd South Assembly Member, Ken Skates, has voiced his concern over the proposed closure of well used public toilets in Overton and Chirk. A number of Ken's constituents have contacted him with concerns about the future of the public toilets, which have been brought into question by Wrexham County Borough Council's spending cuts.

The toilets are well used by tourists, who are then brought out of their cars and into the village, and are also vital for older people in the area.

Ken Skates AM said, "These public toilets make life simple for people who need the assurance of a local toilet when they leave home. Those who search for a toilet can then be attracted into the villages to use the shops and buy food, helping local businesses. Removing these toilets will make attracting people to enter the villages much more difficult. I am calling on Wrexham County Borough Council to clarify their plans. Public toilets are a basic requirement which these people should not be denied."

Overton Am Drams Spring Production

The Spring production by the Drama Society stars children from the local primary school and Penley Maelor. Lorren Wallwin's musical theatre group will open the show with dances with a circus theme. This will be followed by a group of 8 to 12 year olds presenting The Piccalilli Circus, a short play set in and around the big top and very loosely based on the tale of Romeo and Juliet.

After the interval, students from Penley Maelor School perform another version of Romeo and Juliet, this time set in the 1970's Glam Rock Era and devised by Paul Drake, who is directing with Sue England.

The dates for your diary are Fri. 23rd March at 7.00pm, Saturday 24th March at 2.30pm & again at 7.00 pm . Tickets at £5 for adults and £3 for children of school age will be on sale two weeks beforehand.

Ramblings From the Reverend by Rev'd David Child

When I left home to go to university my mother and father each gave me something. My mother gave me my train fare home, told me never to spend it, to keep it safe, so that whatever happened, I could always come home. My father - he gave me some advice. He told that there would be times and situations when I would find myself not knowing what to do, not knowing which way to turn, with no-one to ask. Then, he told me, all I had to do was to think, what my mother would want me to do and to do that. It was the best of advice.

But why am I writing about his. Well March 18th is Mother's Day or Mothering Sunday and sooner or later we all have to let go of our children. But that 'letting go' doesn't stop us loving and caring for our children - 'letting go' doesn't mean abandoning.

But there's another side of motherhood, just as real, just as recognizable. It's the path of shared suffering which all parents relate to. However old we get and however old our mothers get, they still suffer our hurts with us. Pain that hurts us hurts them as well. And there's another thing, on Good Friday we get a glimpse that tender reversal of roles that happens to many of us as we get older when we find that instead of us caring for our children, they have started to care for us. Jesus shows such loving care as he gives Mary and John one another to love and to look after.

One of the greatest gifts God gives us in this life is one another. Together we walk through the years, learn to listen, learn to scold, learn to encourage, learn to forgive, learn to give, learn to accept, learn to protect and learn to let go. We learn also the responsibility of helping those dependent on us and later we come to learn the humility of enforced and unwelcomed dependence on others. And through it all God gives us the companionship and the joy of human beings loving one another.

There is a place for mothering in all our relationships and that includes God's relationship with us. I look forward to welcoming you all to our Mothering Sunday Family Service and Communion on March 18th at 10 am. Posies of flowers will be given to children of all ages to give to their mothers.

With every blessing,
David.

COUNTRY BEAT

by PCSO Stephen O'Connell

Hello Everyone,

By the time you read this it will hopefully be getting warmer and lighter at night! It's not been a terrible winter but the weather in February has reminded us how treacherous it can be on the roads. Therefore, I again ask you to please keep an eye on your vehicle and make sure that they are fully checked before you attempt any journey.

Spring is nearly upon us and the nights are getting shorter. Unfortunately, this may mean that criminals may take advantage of the better weather to commit crime. Over the past few months there have been several reports of farming equipment/vehicles being stolen. With this, I urge you to make sure that any equipment is kept locked away when not in use and vehicles are not left with keys left in them or by the road. You may think that a shed will be safe for your equipment with a strong lock on the front but criminals will just rip the roof off the shed and lift the item out! I suggest that any valuable items are not left in a shed. Instead keep them in the house.

I have had complaints of dog fouling in Overton. Environmental officers from Wrexham Council have been made aware and will be around the village over the next few weeks. Anybody caught letting there dog foul will be given a £75 ticket! Please clean up after your dog; do not let them spoil our beautiful village.

Kind regards
Stephen O'Connell

Your Letters...

Dear Editor,

Following the obituary for Graham Watts in last month's Oracle can I add that Graham was chair of Governors at the Maelor School for many years and was instrumental in helping the school gain grant maintained status in 1993. He was very pro-active as a governor and always had the interest of the school at heart. Graham recognised the importance of good relationships within a school and due to his background in education, always took a keen interest in all the students. Both Staff and Governors, past and present, who knew Graham at the school were saddened to hear of his death and have very fond memories of working alongside him.

Sue England

Dear Editor,

I am now living in Wem but my home was at Knolton and I am a former pupil of Overton School (left 1963), former player at the cricket club and have relatives still in the village.

Have you come across this website set up by Nth Wales newspapers? If you search within the site for Overton it brings up a series of old photos ranging from the 1950s to 1980s with many old memories

Medical Practice

It is with great pleasure that we announce a really happy event. Dr Fallows is expecting a baby early in May. Dr Elinor Cooper is going to be standing in for Dr Fallows during her maternity leave. She has done locum work with us, so may not be an altogether new face when she joins in mid April.

There has been an increase in the number of cases of Mumps. This can be a particularly nasty illness as you get older. If you are under 25 years of age and have not had 2 doses of the MMR vaccine, please book an appointment with a Nurse.

We have been requested by the local health board that for problems which do not require long term treatment and for which recommended treatment is available to purchase over the counter, that Doctors ask patients to purchase this medication from the chemist, e.g. Ibuprofen. Please do not be offended. By doing this we help NHS Wales reduce spiralling costs and the savings can be redirected to other areas of care. Twinning News

The recent Beetle Drive was an evening of pleasure of the simplest kind. No cruelty to beetles or other animals took place! Groups of people, some young, some not so young, spent a couple of hours together just having fun. The noise level was high with plenty of shouting. The winners needed luck but also needed to be able to throw the dice as quickly as possible. The technique got better as we made our way through the 12 games, none lasting more than a frenetic 4 minutes. Sophisticated it may not have been but great fun was had by all. Before the excitement started we all had a delicious two course supper, home-made by the fine band of twinning caterers. A huge thank you to everyone who contributed in any way.

Our next event is a Wine Tasting on Saturday 3rd March 2012 in the Village Hall at 7.30pm. Tickets are great value at £10 and include a good variety of wines, cheeses and home-made pates and quiches. We look forward to seeing you there. Tickets 710322 or 710486

Neville William Victor Scott

Last month's Oracle carried a short report on the death of Overton British Legion Vice-President Neville Scott of Sodylt Hall. Thank you to Mrs Scott for giving us a fuller picture of his service.

Neville was born on 1st September 1923, his father had died 3 months before his birth, of wounds sustained in the Royal Flying Corps during WW1. His mother brought him up alone in their Sutton Coldfield home. At the outbreak of WW2 he joined the Merchant Navy as a midshipman with the Liverpool based Blue Funnel Line and following training college, joined his first ship the SS Lycaon as a junior officer. Over the next 6 years he saw much of the world on board an armed merchantman which offered some limited protection to the convoys with which they sailed. The threat from enemy forces was ever present and took a heavy toll on the merchant fleet. However, fortune smiled on Neville throughout his naval career and even one evening when on leave, he was riding his motorbike returning to Liverpool Docks, when he had to swerve to avoid revellers outside a pub, hit the tram lines and fell off breaking his arm. He was unable to rejoin his ship on convoy to Malta which was torpedoed en route sinking with all hands. Such are the vagaries of war.

Despite his young age he rose rapidly to become acting second watch keeping officer responsible for the ship's navigation and saw action against U-boats on the Atlantic convoys. He was present at the invasion of Sicily where his ship SS Diamed was the sole vessel tasked with landing troops to stop the Germans using Sicily as a supply route. In the closing stages of the Pacific war, he saw first hand the devastation caused by the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, arriving 3 months after it was dropped. He was also on the first ship into China after the liberation of Shanghai.

Neville was always modest and reticent about his time in the Merchant Navy but was awarded the following decorations: the Burma Star, the Atlantic Star, Africa Star and Italy Star, two of which had bars. He always wore these with pride on Remembrance Sunday's at the service in Overton, to remember all those who had lost their lives in the service of their country. In 1998 he was invited to become a Vice-President of the Overton branch of the Royal British Legion a position he held until his death on November 24th 2011.
